

Annual Report

Year in review

The modernisation of the grid is progressing well. In the reporting year, Swissgrid was able to commission a new transformer system in the Mettlen substation in the canton of Lucerne, for example. Similarly, progress is being made on important grid projects in the canton of Valais. In addition, Swissgrid has finished planning the Strategic Grid 2040. The areas of innovation and digitalisation are also experiencing positive momentum, while Swissgrid is demonstrating a strong commitment to achieving greater integration into European processes.
